COMMUNITY . COLLABORATION . CONNECTIVITY

Infrastructure Sustainability Council

YOUR INVITATION

Infrastructure has always been about more than the assets we build.

It is about creating thriving communities, strengthening economies and leaving a legacy for future generations. As our sector responds to increasingly complex challenges, the need for collaboration has never been greater. No single organisation can deliver the transformation required on its own. Progress is achieved when government, industry, academia and the supply chain, come together with a shared commitment to creating better outcomes.

As the peak body for sustainable infrastructure across Australia and New Zealand, the Infrastructure Sustainability Council exists to bring those conversations together. Through thought leadership, policy, learning, industry collaboration and meaningful engagement, ISC provides a trusted platform where ideas are shared, innovation is celebrated, and partnerships are formed to help shape a more sustainable future.

Partnering with ISC is more than supporting an event. It is an opportunity to become part of a year-round ecosystem that connects people, knowledge, and action across our industry. From the Sustainable Summit Series and IS Connect, to policy forums, working groups, white papers, learning and development, digital content and member engagement, every partnership contributes to a broader movement focused on advancing sustainable infrastructure. Together, we can inspire new thinking, strengthen industry capability, influence future policy, and create lasting value for our organisations, our communities and the places we all share.

We invite organisations who share this vision to join us as partners in shaping the future of sustainable infrastructure.
